SCOPE OF WORK

Introduction

As more and more businesses automate their processes, the need to evolve from handwritten to electronic signatures has become increasingly crucial. Handwritten or wet-ink signatures tend to slow down processes because they are mostly dependent on the signatory's presence and most notably, the exchange of paper.

In DeKalb County there is a need for hard copies but an even greater need to implement digital records. Some challenges faced:

- Teleworking limits accessibility to hardcopy documents and filing
- Hardcopies get lost or damaged, hampers virtual collaboration etc.
- The average lifecycle of a hard copy form is roughly 3-7 days
- Manual follow-up required

While it is not realistic to eliminate paper, as certain requirements require the County to produce hard copies of documents, now is the perfect time to transition towards a paperless organization and adopt an electronic signatures process.

In response to Covid-19 Pandemic HR employees transitioned to teleworking, requiring the electronic signing and delivery of documents. The current tools available are limited and do not allow for automated workflow for online forms that can be signed and routed electronically. There is no centralized solution for HR to manage electronic forms and related workflows.

Scope of Services

DeKalb County Human Resources is seeking to purchase a two-year Electronic Document Signature Subscription Service.

DeKalb HR currently processes 8,000+ employee forms/documents on an annual basis. HR seeks to digitize its existing processes and forms – automated from start to finish. Online forms can be submitted from any device, including mobile phones and tablets, and dispersed using a customizable, automated workflow for online forms that can be signed by end-users and routed electronically.

An electronic signature solution ensures safe and timely continuity of HR processes. The proposed vendor will provide e-signatures, online forms, web forms and user portal, electronic document management, automated workflows, and secured storage of forms. A complete electronic signature solution will provide legally binding electronic signatures and the following:

- Web Forms/Portal
- PDF Form Conversion
- Electronic Signatures
- Customer Support
- Form Delivery Option (Workflows)
- Customizable Website
- Multiple Users
- Government Security Features

- Implementation Support
- Secured Document Storage

- Submission Data

- Another key function is ADA & 508 compliance to ensure accessibility to all users both internal and external.

DeKalb County owns all documents created. All documents to be delivered to DeKalb County via electronic file.
